FOR SUCCESS IN THE 21ST CENTURY

What is safeguarding?

Schools have a statutory responsibility to keep children safe from harm. The National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children (NSPCC) defines safeguarding as:

- Protecting children from abuse and maltreatment
- Preventing harm to children's health or development
- Ensuring children grow up with the provision of safe and effective care
- Taking action to enable all children and young people to have the best outcomes

What are schools expected to do?

Schools must comply with the current safeguarding guidance from the Department for Education, called Keeping Children Safe in Education. This means, for example:

- Having a designated safeguarding lead (DSL), who is trained to support staff, contribute to assessing children and liaise with other agencies

- Having a child protection policy, and procedures covering specific safeguarding issues

- Ensuring that adults working in the school are safe to work with children, by carrying out background checks (through the Disclosure and Barring Service) and having someone on interview panels who is trained in 'safer recruitment'

- Ensuring that all staff receive safeguarding and child protection training, and that this is regularly updated

What does safeguarding look like in our school?

- We protect information about your child and only share it appropriately
- We respond appropriately to an unplanned absence, or to a pattern of poor attendance

- We track concerns about children confidentially
- We teach pupils about safeguarding issues, including how to respond to concerns, in lessons and assemblies through our wellbeing curriculum
- We supervise pupils as they enter and leave the school building at the start and end of the day
